Expertise

Research, Monitoring & Evaluation expertise

Our teams are staffed with qualified researchers for social and physical infrastructure projects who have worked in the Pacific and Asia. Our consultants have completed numerous evaluations on Aid & Government projects including HIV/AIDs and STIs in PNG, Aboriginal Environmental Health Infrastructure in Northern Queensland, and Road Infrastructure Capacity Building in the Solomon Islands.

Comprehensive Management expertise

We can manage risk assessment; strategic planning; business process re-design; operational management; organisational performance; project management; financial control; change management; and relationship management.

Astute and ethically aware professionals

Our professionals are capable of creating innovative solutions; troubleshooting and analysing issues to ensure efficient operations by exercising sound conceptual skills to identify and capture the 'big picture'.

Expertise Cont.

Strong awareness of cultural diversity

We possess an understanding of the political issues and importance of balancing community strategies with effective economic and social justice ventures.

High-level communication skills

We have an outstanding record in stakeholder management; able to present information and ideas at an understandable level to influence and drive a concept.

Strong leaders of people

We train and inspire teams to set and achieve goals – stripping away self-limiting thought patterns to replace doubt with confidence which contributes to the attainment of objectives.
